“ Roger,
Sorry for your loss. What memories I have of her. Growing up she helped raise me, treating me as hers. I have offered though of her. Victory St. not the same without her.

“ I did not know Mrs. Ghent personally, but have known her son, Roger, for many years. Seeing the kind of man he grew up to be lets me know what kind of mother she was to him. We shared many conversations about our parents and their health and aging over the years, always with a positive outlook and remembrances of good times. Prayers for the Ghent family.
