

Mrs. Susan Hogan

December 20, 1948 - September 25, 2019

Susan D. Hogan, 70, of Columbia, died unexpectedly, Wednesday, September 25, 2019. Born in Philadelphia, PA, she was the daughter of the late George and Dorothy Shellenberger Deavers.

Susan was a Graduate of Millersville University of Pennsylvania and a member of Northeast Presbyterian Church. She was a loving mother and devoted military spouse. An avid traveler, Susan visited over 45 countries, oftentimes as part of medical missions. You could usually find her walking Edisto Island Beach for seashells and sharks' teeth.

Survivors include her husband of 48 years, Donald W. Hogan; her beloved children, Kirsten, Kathryn, Benjamin, and Amanda; and her grandson, Harrison.

Susan was laid to rest following a small service at Fort Jackson National Cemetery. The family suggests memorials be made to the Edisto Island Preservation Alliance at www.preserveedisto.com.

Comments

“ I only knew Susan for a few years but felt like I had known her a lifetime. I immediately felt her strong compassion for people and love for her family. Her stories of traveling made me feel as though I had made the trip myself. We laughed alot, something that came easily when I was with her. She was a wonderful listener and always made me feel like I was special when I was in her presence. It was an honor to know her and I like many others will miss her dearly. My deepest sympathy, you are all in my prayers.

Donna Crocker - September 27 at 08:27 PM

“ Susan Hogan was truly a woman after God's own heart. Humble, kind and genuine. She was loved and will be missed. My prayers and love to the entire family. How very blessed I was to have loved her. Kathy Crow

Kathy Crow - September 25 at 03:29 PM

“ She was such a very special lady. Always always doing for others. I will never forget how she helped me when I was going thru cancer. The world is a better place because she was here and now Heaven is blessed. She sure did bless me. Hugs to the family.

Elaine Clary - September 27 at 04:39 PM